PRIMARY MENTORSHIP SERIES:

DOES MONTESSORI REALLY WORK?

Dr. Montessori's method proposes to aid the child in the formation of its personality. The intention of this series of talks is to discover what lies beyond the stated goals of the presentations so as to recognize what each area offers to this creative process.

We will explore each of the four Primary areas separately over the course of four Saturdays. On our last Saturday we will study the interrelatedness of these areas and the reciprocal role each plays in strengthening and harmonizing the child's psychic construction.

This careful examination should lead us to a more effective implementation of Dr. Montessori's holistic approach to education. It should better equip us to assist each child in the fullest development of its spiritual, physical and mental potential.
